The digital world of the Internet is like a big city. Just like in our real-life neighborhoods, some people have jobs that help the rest of us stay safe on the Internet.

Sometimes pranksters like Kittyface try to trick Faux Paw the Techno Cat into sharing personal information on the Internet. They can also be called hackers or scammers.

Cybersecurity careers rock!
Cursor and Firewall Chief are cybersecurity superstars. Their jobs are to protect Faux Paw by warning that personal information should never be shared online. They also keep valuable information from getting into the hands of hackers like Kittyface.

People who have jobs keeping people safe on the Internet have cybersecurity careers.

You could have a career protecting the digital world someday and be a cybersecurity superstar too!
